DESCRIPTION

The Belt Section CSS/N-4 from Bosch Rexroth is a straight conveyor section designed for use in modular belt transfer systems within assembly technology lines. The component integrates with existing CSS series installations and supports incremental build-out or extension of transfer lines in industrial production environments.

- Modular design - extendable and reconfigurable without reworking the full line
- Low individual weight (9.9 g) for straightforward handling and integration
- Compatible with the Bosch Rexroth CSS/N assembly technology series
