DESCRIPTION

The D28 bushing is a low-friction POM component designed as a movable connector within the Bosch Rexroth EcoShape round tube system. It accepts D28 profile tubes and provides rotational freedom at pivot points - making it the right choice for adjustable workstations, swing arms, and reconfigurable assembly lines.

- POM material: high wear resistance, low friction, good chemical resistance
- Positive-fit seat for D28 EcoShape round tubes
- Pivot joints without special tooling
- Black finish matches the EcoShape system aesthetic
