DESCRIPTION

OVERVIEW

The Hakko FM 2024-02 is an integrated desoldering nozzle cartridge equipped with a built-in heater, designed for use with FM-204 and FM-206 desoldering stations. This component delivers exceptional thermal recovery performance and enables rapid, efficient desoldering operations on printed circuit boards.

KEY FEATURES

- Integrated heater ensures superior thermal recovery during desoldering cycles
- Composite nozzle design optimizes heat transfer and solder removal efficiency
- One-touch nozzle replacement system for quick cartridge changes
- Dual configuration support: operates in both gun and straight handpiece modes
- Lightweight construction reduces operator fatigue during extended use
- Nozzle cartridge can be replaced before cooling completely
- Compatible with FM-204 (built-in vacuum pump type) and FM-206 (multi-port, 3-port type) stations

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

Compatible Stations	FM-204, FM-206
Station Type	Built-in vacuum pump type (FM-204); Multi-port type (FM-206)

Nozzle Configuration	Gun and Straight
Heater Type	Integrated
Nozzle Material	Composite
Replacement Method	One-touch operation with nozzle remover tool
Country of Origin	Japan

APPLICATIONS

The FM 2024-02 nozzle cartridge is ideal for professional desoldering operations in electronics manufacturing, repair, and rework environments. It excels in removing solder from component leads and through-hole connections on PCBs with minimal thermal stress to surrounding circuitry.

SCOPE OF DELIVERY

- FM 2024-02 desoldering nozzle cartridge with integrated heater
- Nozzle remover tool for cartridge replacement
