DESCRIPTION

The 3842564084 mains cable delivers reliable power to manual assembly workstations in the Bosch Rexroth MTpro system. Its PUR (H07BQ-F) outer jacket resists oils, abrasion, and mechanical stress, making it suitable for continuous industrial use. The 5 m length provides practical reach without requiring extension cables at the station.

- PUR (H07BQ-F) cable jacket - high flexibility combined with resistance to oils and mechanical wear
- Integrated protective earth (PE) - meets safety requirements for earthed workstation installations
- 5 m length - covers typical assembly workstation layouts without additional extensions
- Orange colour - keeps the supply cable clearly visible in the work area
- Matched to the Bosch Rexroth workstation system - ready to install, no custom assembly required
