DESCRIPTION

The HQ 2/S LS lift transfer unit is a component from the Bosch Rexroth assembly technology program for linked transfer systems. It handles the lifting and lateral transfer of workpiece carriers between adjacent conveyor lines, designed for integration into indexing and flow conveyor systems.

- Cross-transfer function: lateral handoff of workpiece carriers without interrupting conveyor flow
- S/LS variant: slim design for installation in space-restricted layouts
- System compatibility: designed for Bosch Rexroth TS 2plus and compatible assembly conveyor series
