

Automatic Solder Feed System 0.6mm - Hakko 375-06

Item no. HK-375-06

Manufacturer Hakko

EAN 4962615015885

Compact automatic solder feeder with V-groove anti-splash function. Designed for 0.6mm solder wire with 50mm feed length. Minimizes solder and flux splash through innovative V-grooving technology. Compatible with standard solder reel stands.

DESCRIPTION

OVERVIEW

The Hakko 375-06 is a compact, space-saving automatic solder feeder specifically designed for 0.6mm diameter solder wire. It features an innovative V-groove cutting function that significantly reduces solder and flux splash during soldering operations, improving work quality and reducing cleanup time.

KEY FEATURES

- V-groove anti-splash technology – cuts solder wire with precision grooves to release flux gas pressure and suppress splash
- Compact, space-saving design ideal for workbenches with limited space
- Simple ON/OFF switch control for solder feed amount regulation
- 50mm solder feed length per cycle
- Compatible with standard solder reel stands and Hakko 611 reel holder
- Optional switch or hand switch available for increased efficiency
- Supports lead-free solder with halogen-free flux

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

Applicable Solder Diameter	0.6mm (also compatible with 0.3, 0.5, 0.8, 1.0mm)
----------------------------	---

Solder Feed Length	50mm per cycle
Solder Type	Lead-free (Sn-3Ag-0.5Cu) with halogen-free flux
Operating Temperature Range	350°C to 400°C (iron temperature)
Control Method	ON/OFF switch with optional external switch
Country of Origin	Japan

APPLICATIONS

Ideal for high-volume soldering operations where minimizing flux splash and solder splatter is critical. The V-groove technology is particularly effective for precision electronics assembly, PCB soldering, and applications requiring clean, professional solder joints with minimal cleanup.

SCOPE OF DELIVERY

- Hakko 375-06 automatic solder feeder unit
- Instruction manual
- Optional accessories available separately (external switch, hand switch)
