

Universal adapter clip for tip extraction on the soldering iron - Metcal AC-FX1

Item no. WL25484

Manufacturer Metcal

Solder fume has to be captured where it forms, right at the tip. The AC-FX1 universal adapter clip holds the extraction nozzle on the iron and adapts to hand pieces of different diameters. It ships as a set for retrofitting existing hand soldering positions.

DESCRIPTION

Extraction only works when the nozzle stays close to the joint. The Metcal AC-FX1 is a universal adapter clip that fixes tip extraction directly to the soldering iron and adapts to hand pieces of varying diameter.

BENEFITS

- Universal clip for hand pieces with differing diameters
- Capture at the tip, where solder fume is generated
- Quick fitting and removal for tip changes
- Retrofits existing hand soldering positions
- Supplied as a set
